STATE COMMITTEE CHOSEN.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Trenton, April 27.—The convention here to day, to appoint delegates to the Republican National Conven-tion at Minneapolis, developed into a tremendous Never have the Republicans of Newredeeming the State from Democratic control. The convention was held in Taylor's Opera House, which Wanser, the new Mayor of Jersey City, who defeated and was received enthusiastically. Mayor Wanser was said that he was not a candidate for the nomination of Governor. He thought it would not be using the e of Jersey City right to desert them at this Ex-Congressman John Kean, jr., chairman of the State Committee, called the convention to order Ex-Judge John A. Binh, of Hudson, was elected chairman and made a vigarous speech. References to Blaine and Harrison evoked great appliance. J. Herbert Potis, of Hudson; Augustus S. Barbour, of Foncester; and Elmer W. Sanderson, of Essex, were chosen as secretaries of the convention

At this juncture the members of the State Committee tendered their resignations and offered a resolution that hereafter the committee should be composed of one member from each county and four membersat-large, provided that in counties having more than three and less than five members in the Assembly an additional member should be elected, and in all counties having more than five members two additional nembers should be elected. This arrangement was not altogether satisfactory to the convention and an amendment was carried providing that the committee should consist of one member from each county and members-at-large, but countles containing cities of over 100,000 population to be entitled to two representatives on the committee. This gives Newark and Jersey City each one extra member. The resignations of the old members were accepted and the resolution in its amended shape upanimously adopted. resolution was also adopted recommending the ad-visability of a more effective organization of the party in the several counties, the details to be referred to the new State Committee.

Pending reports from its subordinate committees the convention took a recess. Immediately afterward the It Indorses the Administration of President Harrison dignified, deliberate and patriotic in every word and act, has furnished a noble example of a great caler of a great people." We believe that the tariff act known as the "Me-Kinley bill," in spite of misrepresentations from foreign manufacturers and free trade doctrinsires, is approved and will be sustained by the calm judgment of the American people. Under its operation our foreign commerce has risen in the year just closed to $2.000,000,000,000 heyonat the highest point heretofore reached, notwithstanding the fact that the protection given by it to agricultural products has resulted in a largely decreased importation of such products and a corresponding benefit to our agricultural classes. The great manufacturing industries which add to the resources of our State and annually distribute millions of dollars in wages to our people are the splendid product of the protective system and must not be sacrificed to the clamor of the American Free-Trader or the interests of the foreign manufacturer.

AFTER LISTENING TO CHAIRMAN GRIFFIN THE ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS UNTIL TO-DAY-STRUGGLE OF THE FORAKER AND

Five impe committee meetings were in session at different Foteis the opposing Sherman and Foraker camps had been arranged to ascertain if it were yet possible to keep the floor of the convertion free from turmoil. situation in a nutshell was that the Sherman forces apparently were more than ever determined to name National Convention at Mineapolis, and the Fornker cohorts were instating with increasing emphasis that the ex-Governor's friends should have the choosing of at least two of the four. The Sherman supporters seemed to feel that in not opposing Foraket himself they were making a fremendous and all-

In the terrific jungle the voice of peace was heard only from strictly Harrison sources. withdrawal of A. L. Copper from the list of delegatese was one of the developments of evening. He quietly acknowledged fthat he was out of the race. From other sources came the information that Conger had been on the National Administration's compromise slate, and that his withdrawal probably meant the retirement of Poe, one of the Foraker candidates. A new name was added to the list of available men-General W. H. Gibson, postmaster of Tiffin. in close consultation with Fourth Assistant Postmester General Rathbone during the evening and throughout the day and had acted as a sort of a mediator between the clashing leaders of all factions. The sugge tion was not infrequent that the slate, if one could be arranged amicably, might be McKinley, Foraker, Bushnell and Gibson, the first and last named being in hearty accord with Sherman and the National Adminstration, while being much more acceptable to Foraker than such radical sherman men as Hahn and Hanna. On the other hand, Bushnell, though a warm adherent of Foraker, has been all along an avowed Harrison man, and is not altogether obnoxious to sherman

Although ex-Governor Foraker was in the city throughout the day he did not appear in the convenssibly because Governor McKinley was not to take part in the proceedings until to-morrow, when the battle-royal, if one was to be had, would be waged. Their pictures as well as one of Senator Sherman and another of President Harrison were on the stage, however, all impartially honored.

The Ferniter men made a peculiar move toward the meeting to night of the Committee on Permanent They, in a certain sense, boycotted the Organization. gathering, not one coming forward to take a hand in the proceedings. The committee decided to report me of Governor McKinley for permanent chairman of the convention, John R. Malloy, clerk of the Ohlo House of Representatives, for permanent secre-tury, and A. C. Kain for sergeant-at-arms.

The Platform Committee was said to have practically agreed upon a platform indursing Harrison's National Administration and McKinley's course as Governor, besides enlogizing the McKinley bill, and inserting a separate wool plank, as well as one conlemning the action of Congress regarding cotton ties. Referring to the silver question, an honest dollar is demanded, honest elections South and North called for, another feature being a conservative pension plank. Direct instructions for Harrison were understood to have been omitted in deference to McKinley contingent candidacy, and also because some of For aker's licutements might, it was feared, endeavor to defeat them.

Promptly at 2:30 p. m. to-day the State Convention began at the Cleveland Music Hal., in the presence of an unusually large and excited assemblage. After prayer by the Rev. Charles S. Pomersy, of the Second syterian Church, Charles P. Griffin, of Toledo, was He is a giant in appearance introduced as chairman. and possesses a unguificent voice with which he quickly roused the enthusiasm of his hearers.

The first applause of the convention, however, given to a mention of Governor McKinley. King, chairman of the State Central Committee, it introducing the Fornker temporary chairman, stole a march on the latter, and, in a neat little address contrived to name before any one else the great apostle of protection and omit any reference to ex-Governor Fornker. Hearty applianse was elicited in-stantly at McKinley's name, and the Foraker men were somewhat taken aback, but got their revenge when Judge King later on referred to Secretary Blains An aprear of applause followed from all sides of the ball, several times renewed. President Harrison's name was also liberally cheered.

Chairman Griffin's carefully guarded progress up to later by Chairman Griffin, the Napoleonic Governor's friends showed that they, too, had record-breaking lungs, and excitement between the rival shouters would have been amusing were it not so intensely in earnest. The reading of the roster of members of the various committees chosen by the district conventions helped culm matters somewhat, but the delegates evidently above all things wanted to "holler" wholly nuchecked, and when one Dougherty, of Fayette County, in stentorian tones moved to adjourn till to-morrow so that all could attend the National Lengue baseball game, where everybody could appland, the "ages" rolled up a mighty majority, and the hall was deserted in a judnishing.

Late to-night the Sherman men had a long conference and surprised everybody by smashing all previous combinations and agreeing on the following really "Big Four" for delegates to Minneapolits; Governor McKinley, ex-Governor Foraker, Senator Sherman and secretary Foster. Hahn has withdrawn on condition that he be made a member of the National Committee.

ALTGELD NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Springfield, Ill., April 27 (Special).-The Democratic state Convention, which met at 2:30 o'clock this Springhed, III., April 2. (Springhed), this state Convention, which met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, is likely to go upon record as one of the most turbulent and unmanageable bodies ever assembled under the guise of a deliberative assembly in this State. After Chairman Delos P. Phelps, of the state Central Committee, had made his address and introduced the temporary chairman, James R. Williams, member of Congress from the XIXth District, the disorder broke forth. The speaker, a Cleveland man, was unmercifully gayed by Palmer's adherents, and at times his voice was entirely drowned in the shouts of deriston and insulting cries that went up from the right side of the house, where the Cook County delegates were seated. The morning papers had published a telegram from Senator Palmer, expressing his desire a telegram from Senator Palmer, expressing his desire to leave the whole question of his candidacy to the delegates, and indicating that he would not be dis-pleased to receive the positive indorsement and in-structions of the Illinois Democracy. This message from the Senator had a somewhat demoralizing effect posed to instructions.

At the conclusion of Congressman Williams's the names of the district delegates, State Commit-teemen and Presidential electors were announced. A. E. Stevenson, A. W. Green, C. E. Crufts, B. T. Cable, N. E. Worthington, Walter I. Watson, John A. King and S. P. Chase were elected delegates at large.

The Altgeld men felt pretty confident of capture the Governorship nomination and favored rushing the convention through in one day, while the friends of Postmaster-General, and Judge Bunier, were anxious to adjourn over until to-morrow to gain a further and the secretaries chosen a fight was precipitated by Palmer men secured their first victory in the adoption of a motion to refer all resolutions to the Committee

The Black men tried to get the convention to adjourn over until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning and the assembly became a howling mob. Finally a recess was taken until 4:30 o'clock. The Cleveland feeling in the convention had asserted itself in pronounced terms during the speeches, every mention of the ex-President's name being received with the wildest demonstrations of applause, while John M Palmer received merely a complimentary while John M. A NEW COLLEGE OF ECONOMICS.

PROFESSOR GEORGE GUNTON TO BE ITS HEAD-THE FORMAL OPENING.

34 Union Square, of which Professor George Gun ton is president, was opened with appropriate ceremonies last evening. Parke Godwin presided, and Professor Gunton introduced the speakers. -tilution is based upon a democratic idea of economics and ascribes to the masses in the community an allimportant position in society and civilization. The speakers were Parke Godwin, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Rylance, Carroll D. Wright, Dr. E. R. A. Seligman, the Rev. Dr. C. H. Eaton, and Miss Mollie B. Luck and Scorge A. Pace, students in the college.

Mr. Godwin, in his opening remarks, said: "The first and perhaps only word that ought to be offered on this occasion is that of congraintation. Economic science is as yet in its germ and there is a wide field for its extension. The fortunes of social economics have been exceedingly vaciliating and political omy, if it is to be a science at all, must extend itself to every class in society. I hope and trust that much will be done by the students of this college." Carroll D. Wright, who spoke for the inborers, showed that social economy was broader and more libered than pure political economy, and said that this institution would fill a long-felt want as showing the tracline along which progress lies.

Professor Seligman spoke for the purely political nomist. He said that he must admit, somewhat rejuctantly, that social economy was a more comprehensive term than the old nomenclature, because political economy is really not the proper word to designate the ground covered by that science. He could mate the ground covered by that science. He could assure Professor Gunton of the cordial support of the college professors. At the close of the exercises a lancheon was served. Among those present were Moncure D. Conway, Alfeed Lolge, T. B. Wakeman, Starr Hoyt Nichols, Dr. Lewis G. James, Dr. Zachus, Charles D. Kellong, Professor Clark, Mrs. Herrman, Mos. Gunton and Dr. and Mrs. Lorler.
